

WWDC 2011, Apple's about to unveil iOS5, Lion and cloud solutions

Apple's WDDC 2011 is here to stay!

While there's no evidence that an iPhone 5 (too much hyped) may be introduced, it's almost for sure that Mac OS X Lion and iOS 5 will be presented as well as the music cloud solution that everyone in the industry (competitors or not) have been waiting for.

As usual, any presentation hosted by Steve Jobs himself will boost interest and online cravers...

Stay tuned, this evening!
