

The very latest Google trick for Xmas time? “Let it snow” - literally!

Google tricks and pranks are well-known and sought-after. Now that is almost Christmas time and Santa is coming (to town), all we need is snowflakes falling!

Fire up Google, type Let it snow and... snowflakes falling all around!

After a while your screen will be completely white and you'll need the handy (centered on the screen) Defrost button which will restore your screen to a clear vision!
