

Meebo has been acquired by Google for a reported $100 million

✘ Meebo now goes with Big G, that is it's been acquired by Google for some $100 million.

Meebo, started in 2005 as a web-based messaging service, but has since developed "the Meebo bar," its flagship offering which "wraps" a web page in options that allow it to be shared to Facebook and StumbleUpon and offers recommendations for other similar sites, CNN Money reported.

Another move for Google in order to get Google + finally heading ... users!

Via [GlobalPost]