

Kim Dotcom new venture, Mega, opens: welcome to a new cloud storage service

Internet Millionaire Kim Dotcom has just opened Mega.co.nz, a new cloud storage service which gives (for free) 50 GB of cloud space.

(read his story for more details!)

I just managed to apply and get a brand new account; according to Kim Dotcom Twitter account, almost 250,000 registrations in the very first hour attempted to crush his servers!

The EPIC #Mega launch press conference will be available via live stream for everyone in 1 hour: ustre.am/T7pb

A screenshot of a browser warning message from MEGA. The window title is 'MEGA rocks with Google Chrome'. The message starts with a warning icon and text: 'Warning: You are using an outdated browser, which adversely affects your file transfer performance. Please upgrade to Google Chrome.' Below this is a visual equation: the MEGA logo (red sphere with 'M') plus the Google Chrome logo (multi-colored sphere) equals a white cloud with a red heart inside. The text below explains that Google Chrome has the full spectrum of HTML5 functionality and suggests upgrading. At the bottom, there is a checkbox for 'Do not show again', a 'Download Chrome' button, and a 'No, Thanks' button.

Mega advises you to use Google Chrome due to some Javascript settings and file transfer features.

The screenshot displays the Mega account dashboard. It is divided into three main sections: Account type, Membership type, and Storage Space. The Account type section shows a green shield icon and the word 'FREE' with an 'Upgrade' link. The Membership type section shows a red calendar icon, the word 'FREE', and 'No billing cycle'. The Storage Space section features a circular progress indicator showing '0% used' and a progress bar below it, with '0 GB' of '50 GB' total space used.

Several pay-per-store are available, check these plans:

The screenshot shows three paid Mega Pro plans. Each plan is presented in a grey-bordered box with a shield icon containing a Roman numeral. Pro I offers 500GB Storage, 1TB Bandwidth, and costs 9.99 per month. Pro II offers 2TB Storage, 4TB Bandwidth, and costs 19.99 per month. Pro III offers 4TB Storage, 8TB Bandwidth, and costs 29.99 per month. All prices are in Euros.

Right now, I'm playing with the file manager and, besides some slowness, it works fine, it's simple...

What's next? More details upcoming...
