

April Fool's Day 2015: Google Maps turns into PacMan Arcade (no coins required)

It's April Fool's Day again!

Google turns its great Google Maps into a PacMan worldwide videogame.

You'll be able to run the Pac-character on your own streets avoing Pinky and most other evil ghosts – yes, that's right: using your own city map!

Thanks Google!

Update for mobile users!

On Android devices, you'll need to solve one of many riddles from a Google support page to find hidden Pac-Man pins at specific locations. Only then will you see a Pac-Man button that will allow you to play by swiping in different directions!
