“Computer chess”: a 2013 nerd movie about vintage computing - and more...

I recently watched a 2013-movie: Computer Chess.
To my real shame, I missed it when it was released, some 3 years ago.

It's very compelling and well-made - and funny too; written and directed by Andrew Bujalski the movie it's a celebration of the early computing age, nerds and chess-playing.

Lots of vintage computers are featured and you may spot your own favorite...
It's a black-and-white only indie movie, it's well worth its 92 minutes!

More details at FastCoCreate.
The movie is available on Amazon too in different formats.
